QC Jr. Flames

"The Quad City Jr. Flames are pleased to have been selected as the host for the 2009 Central States Hockey League's Jr. A annual showcase. This will be the second visit to the Quad Cities of the Showcase in the last three years. The event will be held Dec 18th-21st and feature six games daily as all 13 teams descend on the Quad City Sports Center's rinks. Numerous scouts from higher level Junior programs and from many colleges throughout the country will attend to evaluate the players. A link to the schedule can be found at:

<http://cshlquadcity.stats.pointstreak.com/leagueschedule.html?leagueid=366&seasonid=4336> and is also posted around the QCSC.

The Jr. Flames will kick off the event with a special pre-Showcase game versus the Flint Jr. Generals on December 17th at 7pm.

This event will be a great opportunity for the QC hockey community to see highly skilled amateur hockey. The players range in age from 15-20 years old. Former Quad City players who have participated in previous Showcases include University of Maine goaltender Scott Darling, current QC Mallard Marc Rechlicz and 2009 University of Minnesota-Crookston Captain Fred Kooser."
